

June 2, 2009

To Whom It May Concern:

I want to express my great appreciation for the incredible services that Kitty Stockton provided for us in our move to North Carolina. We first contacted Kitty about 3 years before we were actually ready to move. We wanted to "scope out" Chapel Hill, and we got her name from a third party. She set aside an entire day to show us the town and various communities, knowing that we were far from the actual house-hunting stage. We continued to be in touch with her, and even did another tour of town and new developments, again prior to the actual house hunt. Kitty sent us literature, provided all kinds of information on shopping, restaurants, lifestyles, and more. And we continued to be in touch.

When we finally sold our house and were ready for the "real thing," Kitty set up an incredibly organized list of showings, based on all our conversations of what we wanted and where our priorities were. We found our house very quickly, because all the houses we saw were in our "target" with regard to features and pricing.

Kitty was our advocate with the builder/seller and took care of so many details when we were back up in Chicago trying to pack up our house and get moved.

Our stress level was greatly reduced because Kitty handled so many of the details that come up with buying & selling a house, moving, etc. I can't say enough to recommend her to anyone who is thinking of moving to this area. A realtor can make or break an experience like that, and having someone who made it a pleasant time was wonderful!

Sincerely,

Wendy Rosenstock & John Cangelosi